

ALL RUSSIA RISES AGAINST THE CZAR; HE CALLS ON WITTE

While Moscow Revolts and Entire Country Is Aflame, He Decides on Dictatorial Power for Count in Hope of Halting People.

Dreading the revolutionary spirit that has broken bounds in Russia, the Czar sees his only hope in Count Witte. To-day he decided to make Witte practically a dictator, the Count to be at the head of the Government and dictate its policy.

The entire country is aflame, and reports of rioting and excesses come from all points.

Moscow has declared for an independent government, all the political parties uniting to that end. All communication with St. Petersburg has been cut off and thousands of workmen from surrounding districts are marching on the city to join the revolutionary movement.

Bomb throwing at Gornia has been almost fatal to the Chief of Police and two Cossacks, the three being badly injured.

Revolts in flames and the people fighting the troops. Eight persons have been killed and forty wounded. Kharkoff is under martial law, while the strikers have paralyzed business and terrorized great sections of the Caucasus.

Food is growing scarce at all points, and in Moscow water is selling at 20 cents a glass.

Cossacks attacked girl and boy students at Odessa, and 10 were injured and one killed. Seventeen girls were among those hurt. The city is in a state of riot and threatened with troops. The Black Sea fleet is expected in port tonight.

MOSCOW REBELS AGAINST EMPEROR.

MOSCOW, Oct. 28.—1905 A. M.—At a meeting of delegates representing the different political parties, it has been decided to unite in the establishment of a Government and to act independently of the Imperial authorities.

BOMB HITS CZAR'S CHIEF OF POLICE.

GOMEL, Russia, Oct. 28.—The strikers here to-day threw a bomb at the Chief of Police who was driving through the principal thoroughfare. His carriage was wrecked and the Chief and two Cossacks, who were escorting him, were badly injured.

TROOPS SWARM IN ST. PETERSBURG.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28.—5.35 P. M.—The city is again in darkness tonight, only kerosene and candles being available.

Count Witte again spent the day with the Emperor at Peterhof. Upon him rest the imperial hopes. It is only a question of hours when he will be Premier with practically dictatorial powers.

Many Americans who were here, including Charles R. Flint, have temporarily gone abroad.

A condition bordering upon panic prevails here to-day. Business is completely suspended. Soldiers are everywhere in the streets and bloodshed on a large scale is feared.

Reval in Flames.

From all over the Empire the story is the same—work stopped, no newspapers printed, schools closed and the business life of the people suspended. The cry of the masses is always the same—political liberty. The military everywhere are in possession, the inhabitants are terror-stricken, many cities are in darkness, and at Reval a mob began work last night.

The rioters sacked the shops, and this morning the city is on fire. The theatre and apartment-houses are burning.

Kharkoff is under martial law. Eight persons have been killed and forty wounded in the fighting.

COSSACKS ATTACK GIRLS IN ODESSA.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—A despatch to a news agency from Odessa says that a riotous attack occurred this morning at the gymnasium between students of both sexes and Cossacks who interfered in the meeting.

Nearly a hundred students were injured and one was killed.

Seventeen young girls, it is further announced, are among the victims of the attack at the gymnasium.

NOT ILLEGALLY REGISTERED.

Chargé d'Affaires Harburger Denies the Charge Made by Opponents.

To the Editor of The Evening World: In tonight's World the charge is made that I have been guilty of illegal registration and that some political organization has an affidavit to that effect.

I denounce this charge as being absolutely false and untrue. I have been registered from No. 60 St. Marks place, in the Twenty-second Election District of the Tenth Assembly District, and from no other place, as the constitution books will show.

CLEVELAND HITS CROOKS IN BUSINESS

Insurance Scandals in Mind as He Delivers Speech on Morton.

WILD RUSH FOR PELF.

Money Madness the Bane of the Day and Many Lives Wrecked.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Oct. 28.—Ex-President Cleveland hit at corruption in business life and money madness in his address to-day at the unveiling of the statue to ex-Secretary of Agriculture J. Sterling Morton, who was a member of the ex-President's Cabinet.

While Mr. Cleveland made no direct allusion to the insurance revelations, which have called him from retirement into the commercial world, all realized that these prompted his talk.

Headlong Rush for Pelf.

Eulogizing Mr. Morton, he said: "None of us should go from this place untouched by the lesson which this statue teaches. Here we should learn that character, uncorrupted by the contagion of ignoble things and unweakened by the corrosion of sordidness and money-madness is the cornerstone of every truly useful life, and of every genuinely noble achievement. We shall do violence to the moral sense which God has vouchsafed to humanity if amid the surrounding we close our minds to the truth, that character represents the real value of a man according to the unalterable standard of life; and that it differs immeasurably from reputation which measures a man's worth by the shifting and untrue standards of mean ambition or success's full cup."

"We have fallen upon days when our people are more than ever turning away from their old faith in the saving grace of character, and flocking to the worship of money-making idols. Daily and hourly in the light of investigation and exposure, characterless lives are seen in appalling numbers, without chart or compass, crowded upon the rocks and shoals of faithlessness and breach of trust."

"How ill these wrecked lives exchanged the safe course and the harbor of honor and usefulness which character and rectitude point out, for a wild and headlong rush over unknown seas in a consuming search for pelf."

Morton's Great Character.

"If our people ever return again to their trust in character as a steady force in our restless enterprise and immense material growth it will be when they take to heart the full significance of such a commemoration as this."

"We memorialize a man who not only earned the lasting honor of his countrymen, but whose life in all things worthy of high endeavor, was abundantly successful."

"As a pioneer, who labored to improve the new country of his home, he lived to see it blossom as the rose, as a scholar he cultivated his own mental powers and acquired knowledge in order that he might be able to instruct and benefit others; as a statesman he left the impress of high action upon our citizens and of usefulness and fidelity upon our public life; and as the father of tree-planting and founder of Labor day, he gained the grateful remembrance of the old and young of the present generation."

"All these things he wrought out through the power of a strong, whole-some, patriotic and beautiful character."

Magistrate Risks Life to Save Boy.

Higginbotham Hurling Out of Auto Which Struck Post as He Avoided Lad.

Magistrate Higginbotham, of Williamsburg, risked his life to-day to avoid running over a five-year-old boy while driving his big red touring car on the Gates Avenue, at the Lee Avenue Court. Herman Meyer, an agent of the Children's Society, was in the machine with the Magistrate.

As the automobile approached Lynch street on Lee Avenue it drew up before a grocery wagon to the tailboard of which George Carboy, aged five, of No. 27 Lee Avenue, was clinging. Suddenly the lad dropped into the street and rolled directly into the path of the auto.

Within five feet of the prostrate boy the Magistrate swung the wheel around and dashed into a telephone pole. The outside wheel of the big machine just grazed the child's head. The impact of the collision threw the Magistrate and Agent Meyer out of the road, but neither was badly injured.

Early Monday morning the sailors re-

CONSULTING THE FORTUNE TELLER.

By T. E. Powers.

MANIAC SLASHES SAILORS ON SHIP

Attacks Lorraine Doctor's Orderly and a Half Dozen Members of Crew.

The French liner Lorraine came to-day with a maniac in irons and half a dozen members of the crew suffering from knife wounds inflicted in a desperate encounter with a man who ran amuck on deck, slashing right and left with his keen-edged weapon and causing a panic among the passengers, which lasted two days.

Heroic surgical treatment saved the life of the Lorraine Baume, the doctor's orderly, whose carotid artery was severed.

The Lorraine was moving swiftly toward New York Sunday morning when Michel Pognetta, a citizen of Buitte, Mont., who had been visiting his mother at Turin, Italy, suddenly became violently insane in the steerage.

"They are trying to kill me," he shouted, rushing about among his fellow passengers and slashing at every one near him.

Men, women and children ran shrieking from the steerage quarter. Several sailors descended and attempted to capture Pognetta. In the struggle to overcome him two sailors were painfully cut. Pognetta was confined in the ship hospital and two sailors were placed over him as his guard. The knife could not be found.

Early Monday morning the sailors reported that Pognetta was moaning and evidently in distress. Theophile Baume entered the room and found Pognetta jabbing himself with the knife. The sailors had failed to find. There was a fresh wound in his throat, a wound in his groin and one in his left leg.

"You want to kill me, too," cried Pognetta as he sprang at Baume, with his knife upraised. Baume jumped back, but the blade slashed his throat, and he staggered from the room with his carotid artery severed. Baume inserted a finger in the wound and stopped the flow. He did not do so or had he fainted he would surely have bled to death.

During the two sailors Pognetta rushed out of the hospital and ran along the lower deck, up a companion way to the ship's rail. As he was climbing overboard several sailors dragged him back.

The maniac's loose with a knife again. He ran over the ship from first cabin to second cabin and thence to the steerage. The passengers fled from the decks to their staterooms in panic.

In the struggle to subdue Pognetta four sailors were severely cut.

CRASH IN BOSTON SUBWAY, EIGHT HURT

Two Cars Wrecked and Many Passengers Have Narrow Escapes.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—Many passengers had a miraculous escape in the Subway when the Park street station at 11.15 this morning.

A Sullivan square train, crowded with passengers, was backing out of the station and was struck by a north station train. The cars from Boston street station. Two cars were badly wrecked and eight persons were injured. Reuben Hudson, a boy, who lives at No. 15 Belmont street, Roxbury, was the most severely injured.

At 8.30 last night Amory called at the Tenderloin Police Station and reported Mrs. Todd's disappearance. He related the circumstances as told above, and further said that he had traced the cab first to the Christopher Street Ferry; to which Mrs. Todd had boarded. Miss Knight directing the driver to go, and thence to the Twenty-third Street Ferry, where Mrs. Todd had dismissed the cab and had vanished.

SEVEN FELL WITH ELEVATOR.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 28.—An elevator carrying seven employees of the Globe Tailoring Company, on West Third street, fell seven stories to the sub-basement today, causing probably fatal injuries to four of the number. The elevator had been stopped at the fifth floor and two girls had just stepped from the car when it fell.

THE SECRET OF YOUTH.

De Soto looked for the secret of youth in a spring of gushing, life-giving waters, which he was sure he would find in the New World. Alchemists and sages (thousands of them), have spent their lives in quest for it, but it is only found by those happy people who can digest and assimilate the right food which keeps the physical body perfect that peace and comfort are the sure results.

A remarkable man of 94 says: "For many long years I suffered more or less with chronic constiveness and painful indigestion. This condition made life a great burden to me, as you may well imagine."

"Two years ago I began to use Grape-Nuts as food, and am thankful that I did. It has been a blessing to me in every way. I first noticed that it had restored my digestion. This was a great gain but was nothing to compare in importance with the fact that in a short time my bowels were restored to free and normal action."

"The cure seemed to be complete; for two years I have had none of the old trouble. I use the Grape-Nuts food every morning for breakfast and frequently eat nothing else. The use has made me comfortable and happy, and although I will be 94 years old next fall, I have become strong and supple again, erect in figure and can supply with anybody and enjoy it."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in every pack.

RICH MRS. TODD'S ATTORNEY BARS OUT MR. "HELL"

Explains Only that Young Man Had Been Attentive to Aged Client.

ADDS TO THE MYSTERY.

Woman, Worth Million, Killed by Train, Said to Have Just Changed Her Will.

Ingersoll Lockwood, of No. 114 Fifth avenue, attorney for Mrs. Margaret Todd, the sixty-year-old wealthy owner of the Von Hoffman apartment hotel at No. 29 West Twenty-sixth street, whose mangled body was found on the railroad tracks near Philadelphia last night, rushed into the Von Hoffman to-day and shouted to Manager George W. Amory:

"What do you mean? Who has the key to her room? Has Hell got it? If you let Hell in there I will have you arrested."

"I don't think he has been in there," said Amory, and the two men went upstairs.

Lockwood, who is tall and venerable-looking, had calmed down somewhat when he descended.

"Hell is a young man who has been very attentive to Mrs. Todd," Lockwood said to an Evening World reporter. "He has taken her to dinner and entertained her in other ways. I don't know his business."

Will Not Change. He Says.

"No, I don't think Mrs. Todd changed her will before she went away," he continued. He said he would make a statement later. He would not say that Hell, whose first name he denied knowing, was in any way connected with the alleged change in the lady's will.

Miss Knight, the last person who knew Mrs. Todd to see her alive, appeared at the Von Hoffman this afternoon and told of how the aged lady started for Philadelphia.

"She has a nephew living in a suburb of Philadelphia," explained Miss Knight. "She wanted to visit him. I accompanied her to the Twenty-third street ferry, bought her a passage ticket and a Pullman ticket to Philadelphia and left her there. She appeared to be perfectly rational."

"Nothing will be done for two weeks about the will," said Manager Amory. "The matter will rest until the second daughter arrives from Vienna."

"We tried to dissuade her from leaving," said Mr. Amory. "I told her she wasn't well enough to go out, but she insisted upon going, and when Miss Knight arrived we let her go. Miss Knight was an old friend. I am convinced Mrs. Todd gave Miss Knight the slip at the ferry. She was not in her right mind and very foxy. She was suffering from delusions on Thursday."

Reported as Missing.

At 8.30 last night Amory called at the Tenderloin Police Station and reported Mrs. Todd's disappearance. He related the circumstances as told above, and further said that he had traced the cab first to the Christopher Street Ferry; to which Mrs. Todd had boarded. Miss Knight directing the driver to go, and thence to the Twenty-third Street Ferry, where Mrs. Todd had dismissed the cab and had vanished.

Views of New York Women.

Here are the opinions of a number of prominent New York women on the subject of "Mrs. Warren's Profession," Mrs. Henry Stiegel, society leader.

"I have read 'Mrs. Warren's Profession' and I never will. I know what the play deals with and I consider it absolutely outrageous to allow such a production to be put upon the stage. I have heard that Anthony Comstock intends to take steps in suppressing the play and while I think Anthony Comstock often makes mistakes in this instance I am heartily in sympathy with him and only wish I could assist him. I am sure every right-minded woman who has given the question consideration will feel the same way."

Hopes It Will Be Suppressed.

Mrs. Scott Tones, President of the West End Republican Club, said: "This latest play from the pen of Bernard Shaw can only receive the most earnest denunciation from right-minded people."

"I must confess I have not read the play, but I know its theme and to put such a subject before the public suppresses all honor and decency. I hope that it may be suppressed."

I am sure every mother in New York will feel upon the subject."

Miss Alice Brown, secretary of the Professional Woman's League, said: "I have read 'Mrs. Warren's Profession' and I never will. I know what the play deals with and I consider it absolutely outrageous to allow such a production to be put upon the stage. I have heard that Anthony Comstock intends to take steps in suppressing the play and while I think Anthony Comstock often makes mistakes in this instance I am heartily in sympathy with him and only wish I could assist him. I am sure every right-minded woman who has given the question consideration will feel the same way."

Police Duty Is Plain.

"Well," he said, "the duty of the police is before them. The law tells them what to do and I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

Let me add to my warnings to Mr. Daly that I have also warned Mr. Daly of the violation, so there is no excuse for him. If he goes ahead and shocks public decency and morality on the miserable pretext that he is delivering a sermon he should be punished. So should every man and woman in his company."

OHIO HITS MUTUAL AND THE N. Y. LIFE

Ex-Attorney-General Monnett Takes Hand in Action to Oust Them from State.

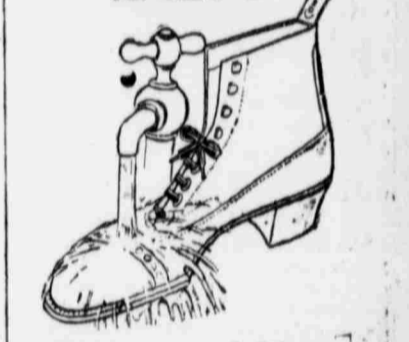

AKRON, O., Oct. 28.—Quo warranto proceedings were begun in the Circuit Court here this afternoon by Prosecuting Attorney Hargreaves, on the advice of ex-Attorney-General Monnett, of Ohio, against the Mutual Life Insurance Company and the New York Life Insurance Company to oust them from the State by taking their franchise from them on the ground that the companies have misused their powers for the past five years in violation of the laws of the State.

Thirty-three interrogatories are submitted to the companies to be answered. The appointment of receivers is asked for.

Will Accept Carnegie's $100,000.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 28.—The Trustees of Union College have decided to accept the offer made by Andrew Carnegie of $100,000 for a new engineering building, providing the trustees raise another $100,000. President A. V. V. Raymond said to-day that the trustees have agreed to accept the offer as soon as possible. In his opinion the money can be easily obtained.

The Coward Shoe

Waterproof Shoe.

A shoe that not only affords ordinary protection, but that keeps the foot warm and dry on cold and stormy days is the Coward Waterproof Shoe. Trim in fit, easy in use and durable in wear, it embodies usefulness never equaled in any other make.

SOLD NOWHERE ELSE.

JAMES S. COWARD, 268-274 Greenwich St., N. Y.

(NEAR WARREN STREET.)

Mail Orders Filled. Send for Catalogue.

H&I COLLARS ARE LINEN

Collar Chat No. 38

Why was a law passed by the legislature of the State of New York making it a misdemeanor to stamp cotton collars "Linen"?

For your protection. So that a glance would tell whether or not you receive full value.

H. & I. Collars are indelibly stamped "Warranted Linen."

Built on honor.

Two for twenty-five cents.

If your dealer won't supply you, send us his name, asking for book "Linen versus Cotton," and get collar-wise.

HENRY HOLMES, Troy, New York

SALESMAN: 31 Union Square West New York

500 Fur Coats

Made of fine, black Broadcloth; lined throughout with Opusium fur; large fur collar and cuffs to match.

Wanted to sell for $19.98. For this sale.

Two years ago I began to use Grape-Nuts as food, and am thankful that I did. It has been a blessing to me in every way. I first noticed that it had restored my digestion. This was a great gain but was nothing to compare in importance with the fact that in a short time my bowels were restored to free and normal action.

"The cure seemed to be complete; for two years I have had none of the old trouble. I use the Grape-Nuts food every morning for breakfast and frequently eat nothing else. The use has made me comfortable and happy, and although I will be 94 years old next fall, I have become strong and supple again, erect in figure and can supply with anybody and enjoy it."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in every pack.

PARKER'S HAIR BALM

Promotes the growth of the hair and gives it softness and silkiness of youth. When the hair is gray or faded it brings back the youthful color, it prevents dandruff and hair falling and keeps the scalp clean and healthy.